THE BANKS AND PUBLIC MONEY

The recent closing of a Wilmington bank brings out the statement from a Clinton county official that county funds have been divided among various banks in the county, and the county obligations can be taken care of. This is a splendid idea and one that has been in use in Greene county for many years. Even should one bank become involved in financial trouble it is not likely the others would suffer a like fate. Had Fayette county such a plan the mere closing of the Daugherty bank would not have placed a hardship on the county. Here we have the affect of political boss rule, especially where the banker was the political boss and had control of public funds. Fayette county in the past has been satisfied with their political boss and what a price they have paid for their political as well as civic leadership.

THE NATIONAL CAMPAIGN IN 1932

Factions of both the major parties are now publicly discussing issues that will concern the national campaign in 1932. The tariff for years has been a threadbare subject. Years ago the silver or gold question divided the parties and today most old world conditions are said to be due to the silver standard. We have the gold standard here and business not what it should be so the monetary issue may not figure very strong in the campaign. It is certain that prohibition will be a strong factor and probably the only outstanding issue when the two parties come to the wire. Both have wet elements that are demanding recognition while both the political conventions will likely ignore the issue in the platform as was done in 1928 but the personality of the candidates will be the issue. President Hoover will no doubt be the Republican nominee again but he will enter the campaign with a strong handicap unless business conditions change. He will face a situation such as no Republican nominee has faced in several decades. It will be his supreme test due to the fact that his party might be divided on prohibition. He will be charged with the business depression and this will be no small factor. He has been a friend of the agricultural interests to a greater extent than most farm leaders will admit. As to the Democratic nominee no prediction can be made at this time but every effort is being made by leaders to keep prohibition and the depression before the people. It is claimed the "solid south" is still Democratic despite the fact it broke over two years ago and will not even leave its moorings of long standing again on the wet and dry issue. Time only will tell but an eventful campaign is in the making.

VETO FOR GOVERNMENT OPERATION

When President Hoover used his veto on the Muscles Shoals bill passed by congress he did the proper thing. It has been more than ten years since the great war nitrate plant was erected at a cost of hundreds of millions. Since that time science has developed many new ways of securing nitrate not only for commercial fertilizer but for explosives. It is contended that before the Muscles Shoals plant could be put in operation the government would be compelled to spend many more millions of dollars to modernize it. There could be no economy in such a plan, in fact it would be a burden on the public at a time it could least afford the experiment of government operation and ownership. There are only a few things that any branch of the government can operate at a less cost than by private corporations. For instance municipal water systems might be mentioned as outstanding and this is only possibly due to the fact municipalities must have abundant water for fire as well as health protection. There are but few municipal electric light plants that are showing a profit but the great majority are a burden to the taxpayers. President Hoover has frequently spoken against government operation or government ownership in competition with private capital. The government is now engaged in competition with private capital on a few things, notably government printed envelopes that are sold at a loss. Some day not far away this will be discontinued.

Wilber Glenn Voliva, who has laid claim to being the logical successor of the late John Alexander Dowie, Zion City, Ill., has had many freak ideas of various things concerning not only life but the rulings of the universe. Probably his most outstanding claim that the world is flat instead of round has provoked the most comment in newspaper columns. He may be right on some things he has given much thought while most people look upon his utterance with some skepticism. Not so long ago he uttered what most people would consider a real truth. He is just back from a tour of the world. He thinks Einstein's theory is pure bunk. He says the sun is hanging in a great dome and is but 3,000 miles away but those stars will term this as so much bunk who study and know the planets and He has no faith in the ordinary compass and has had one of his own made to prove his theory. When asked what he found on his round the world trip Voliva answered: "The World is full of hell." To this utterance many will subscribe. If the world is not full of that which Voliva speaks, it has plenty of it.

Canada has a law that forbids the manufacture or sale of oleomargarine. The sensible reason for such a law that is fully enforced in that country is that butter made from cow's milk contains vitamins which make it superior to any substitute as a human diet. As a result Canada is not concerned about the use of palm oil as the substitute manufacturers in this country want permission to use. So far the Ohio legislature has turned it down. Just a few days before congress adjourned a tax of ten cents a pound was put on colored oleo that would be used as a competitive substitute on the market not only as a means of protection to butter but as a food product for human consumption. Feeding substitute to children is like so much filler. It lacks the elements of butter that growing children should have. It is short on food value. Children that have been fed on oleo have developed eye infection due to dry tear ducts and so far there is no medical cure for it. Mother nature knows more about what is best for human sustenance. Science has done much to aid nature but can never supplant it.

County Superintendent H. C. Aultman has been granted an allowance of $500 from state funds for the purchase of shoes for poor children through boards of education in the county. Recently the legislature passed a bill providing $50,000 for aid along this line in counties where such was needed. The problem of education in some of the poor rural counties in the southern part of the state is absorbing much of the attention of not only state officials but the legislature. As it is Greene county is paying into the state aid fund in addition to financing her own schools. New buildings are being erected in these counties by state aid and yet very frequently these boards of education want a teacher from a northern county and offer higher salaries than what is paid here. In fact the teachers in many southern counties are being paid higher salaries than in many northern counties. There needs to be some readjustment along this line in fairness to northern counties.

AT SPRINGFIELD PLAY-HOUSES NEXT WEEK

"Millie," Donald Henderson Clarke's Best-Seller has become the year's screen sensation. It is a graphic portrayal that appeals to every woman who loves home and babies. It will appear at the State Theatre for four days starting Saturday, March 14. Helen Twelveteeth is the star.

At the State the last half of the week will be seen "Illicit," a daring talkie that hits at the most sensitive spot in your make-up. With red-headed Barbara Stanwyck as the star it makes a wonderful picture.

Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown—just those names assure theatre-goers of a glorious time. They are showing in "Sit Tight" at the Regent for four days starting Saturday, March 14. It has proven a comedy knockout wherever shown.

"Honor Among Lovers" will be the offering at the Regent the last half of the week. It is a clever society drama starring Claudette Colbert and Frederic March.

At the Fairbanks "Big Money" will be shown Sunday and Monday, March 15 and 16. It is a good picture of the gambler and gunplay type. It will be followed by "The Princess and the Plumber," which will show for three days starting Tuesday, March 17th. It is a really clever picture with Charles Farrell playing the lead. A story of the Coast Guard "Men on Call" will be the feature for the last two days of the week.

Mrs. Oscar Melton, who suffered a light stroke of paralysis some time ago, is much improved. She is being cared for by her sister, Mrs. Nellie Cordell of Wilberforce.

To Kill or Not to Kill
Paderewski Still Practices
Chicago Does Not Do This
Your Rich Relative

Los Angeles. — While Governor Brucker signs a bill to re-establish capital punishment in Michigan, California discusses, and will adopt, it is hoped, a bill abolishing capital punishment.

The state cannot discourage murder by imitating murderers and killing as they kill.

Instead of death, the extreme penalty should be life imprisonment, and it should mean life imprisonment, with eight hours for work, eight hours for sleep, eight hours for regret and reflection.

Two criminals recently received sentences aggregating more than 200 years, and it was announced officially that they would actually stay in jail about fourteen years. That makes a joke of justice.

The one "secret of success" is work. Paderewski, in his private car, sidetracked in Los Angeles amazed road workers by practicing for hours on the piano that he carries with him. One worker remarked: "They say he's the best piano player in the world, and listen to him, still practicing." That is one reason why he is the best player in the world. The other reason is his possession of genius.

But even genius, without work, as proved by the careers of many brilliant men born rich, is genius wasted.

New York newspapers continue to advertise Chicago as the city of crime, although Chicago, as proved by statistics, stands far from the top as a crime center. New York's newspapers also relate the interesting story of a New York woman strangled to death after she threatened to tell about police corruption. One policeman, one lawyer are suspected. That has not yet happened in Chicago, where killings are confined to men, and usually to thugs. To make the death of the miserable New York woman more tragic, there comes news of her daughter's suicide. The unfortunate girl, sixteen years old, could not stand the mockery of her high school companions, and killed herself.

It is a comfort to have rich relatives even when you feel poor, and the nation's Uncle Sam is rich. He has in solid gold $4,590,000,000, within $100,000,000 of the greatest amount he ever had.

With such a gold supply it is hard to understand why such a fuss should be made about the soldiers' bonus.

But everything about finance is hard to understand.

Fashionable tailors in New York exhibit what they call "host coats." Brightly colored, blue with green lapels, or wine colored with red lapels, they allow the eaters and drinkers at the party to pick out the man who is paying the bills and prevent mistaking him for the butler.

The latter advantage is not important, because the butler may usually be recognized by his expression of concentrated intelligence, and is nearly always sober.

Congress has gone home for the summer. No extra session, and high finance feels happier. Congress does little to frighten even a mouse, but it might do something, and finance is nervous just now—jumpy, in fact—looking back over its stock-issuing jobs during the boom.

Gandhi has agreed on a settlement with England, one that will save his face and not worry England much. Having led his followers to the seashore to make salt, in defiance of Britain's salt monopoly, Gandhi had to get some concession. English statesmen quite solemnly say: "Those that dwell at the edge of the sea may make their own salt, since God has placed them so near it. We shall make the salt for all others." Soon even those near the sea will buy their salt, since making it is a nuisance.

A powerful French radical complains that France spends too much keeping ready for war. Briand, a real statesman, replies for the French government that the Russian army is today the most formidable destructive power in the world, and he does not intend to have France taken by surprise.

Hopi Indians, of the Grand Canyon, Arizona, have adopted Professor Einstein, giving him for a tribal name "The Great Relative," a tribute to his "relativity" theory. In spite of his pathetic struggles, it seems impossible for Professor Einstein to keep out of the limelight or avoid publicity.

Dr. C. G. Shaw, who specializes in culture, art and such things, says women soon will write all the best books and paint the best pictures. The statement pleases the ladies, does no harm, is absolutely inaccurate and will remain inaccurate for centuries. Nature arranges our work. Men work externally. Women will continue to produce the capable men and the men will continue to produce the greatest books and pictures. That need not annoy women. Michael Angelo, creating his Moses, or decorating the Sistine chapel, is no greater than the mother that produced him. He is her work, as the Moses is his work. It is, at the same time, her mental grandchild.

More than 73,000 miles in a New Ford

THE substantial worth of the new Ford is reflected in its good performance, economy and reliability. Its stamina and endurance are particularly apparent in sections where bad roads and severe weather put a heavy extra burden on the automobile.

In less than a year a new Ford Tudor Sedan was driven more than seventy-three thousand miles over a difficult route. The operating cost per mile was very low and practically the only expense for repairs was for new piston rings and a new bearing for the generator.

The car carried an average load of 1200 pounds of mail and was driven 250 miles daily. "The Ford has never failed to go when I was ready," writes one of the three mail carriers operating the car. "The starter did the trick last winter even at 34 degrees below zero. The gas runs about 20 miles per gallon. At times I pull a trailer whenever I have a bulky load."

Many other Ford owners report the same satisfactory performance. Every part has been made to endure—to serve you faithfully and well for many thousands of miles.

Purebred Rams Boost Returns

Good Market Lambs May Be Produced by Cross Breeding.

Sheep returns may be substantially increased by using a ram of good breeding and of the right type, says L. A. Kauffman, extension specialist in animal husbandry at the Ohio State University.

To sire lambs of a desirable market type a ram should be muttony in his make-up and yet carry a fleece that is uniform and possesses length and density. Fortunately for those who will purchase rams for the coming season, purebred prices have been reduced, in most cases, more than commercial sheep prices.

Many Ohio sheepmen who possess fine wool ewes and who are interested in increasing their volume of business when wool prices are low will find it profitable to practice crossbreeding, according to Kauffman. Where a good mutton ram is mated with merino ewes a desirable market lamb results. This practice does not cause any sacrifice in the wool clip, but helps in increasing returns from the lambs.

Some provision should be made for the replacement of the fine-wool breeding flock. In flocks using two rams, he suggests that one-half of the ewes be bred to a good "C" type ram and the best ewe lambs retained for flock replacement. The other half of the flock may then be bred to a mutton ram for the production of market lambs.

When ewes have sufficient capacity and are good milkers it is best to flush them at breeding time. If they are gaining rapidly in weight at the time they are bred, the lambing percentage will be increased, Kauffman points out.

When the season of slack pastures arrives a grain mixture should be fed the lambs if forage crops are not available. Lambs fed a grain allowance while on old bluegrass pasture usually produce good returns. At the Ohio Experiment Station this past year grain fed weaned lambs on pasture greatly stimulated gains. For each $1 invested in feed $2 was returned.

Night Coughing Quickly Relieved

Famous Prescription Gives Almost Instant Relief

Night coughs or coughs caused by a cold or by an irritated throat are usually due to conditions which ordinary medicines do not reach. But the very first swallow of Thoxine, a doctor's prescription, is guaranteed to give almost instant relief. Thoxine works on a different principle, it goes direct to the internal cause.

Thoxine is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. It will give you better and quicker relief for cough or sore throat than anything you have ever tried or your money will be refunded. Put up ready for use in 35¢, 60¢, and $1.00 bottles. Sold Richard's Drug Store and all other good drug stores.

Even in areas suffering heavy loss from the drought, fruit trees probably be in heavy blossom this spring. An abundant water supply is not necessary for blossom bud formation if the leaves were good and the trees were not overworked with fruit last season.

Simple Desserts Made of Custard

May Be Served in Many Different Ways and is Nutritious

Inexpensive custards made with milk, eggs, sugar, and flavoring are among the most nutritious and easily planned desserts, according to Miss Lelia Ogle, nutrition specialist at the Ohio State University, who declares that they are excellent for all members of the family and offer much in the way of variety.

Milk and eggs, she says give the body needed material for building strong bones, hard teeth, and good muscles. They furnish an adequate supply of vitamins which keep the body in good health.

As custards are made of milk and eggs, care should be taken not to cook them at too high a temperature. When the mixture gets too hot the custard will curdle. In baking a custard, she suggests that the cups or bowls be placed in a shallow pan of water and that the heat of the oven be kept low so that the water in the pans does not boil. This helps in giving a firm, fine textured custard.

When making a soft custard, it is a good idea to cook it over water and not to allow the water to touch the pan of custard. Often times a delicious dessert may be made by pouring a soft custard over fresh or dried fruits. It may also be used as a sauce for gelatin, sponge cake, or gingerbread.

If a baked custard is served, pleasing variations may be obtained by adding nutmeg, cinnamon, caramel, maple syrup, chocolate, raisins, or coconut. When maple syrup or caramel is added, the sugar may be omitted. Miss Ogle states. The custard mixture may be poured over such fruits as apples, peaches, or pears, and baked.
